

EXIGER ANNOUNCES GLOBAL EXPANSION OF EXIGER INTELLIGENCE

TAPS NEW MANAGING DIRECTORS IN NEW YORK AND EMEA

NEW YORK & WASHINGTON, D.C. (OCT. 14, 2020) — Exiger, the GRC firm transforming the global fight against financial crime and fraud, is investing to expand Exiger Intelligence, an industry-first delivery model combining award-winning technology, practical expertise and analytics-led process to address the growing challenge of managing today’s data-heavy regulatory compliance enforcement, government investigations, and complex litigation environment. From eDiscovery and litigation support to compliance and risk analytics, Exiger Intelligence ushers in the next-generation of data-driven investigations and sustainable risk management solutions.

“Exiger was launched to introduce new solutions to old problems. The market is demanding a higher level of service, security, automation and sophistication in risk and data management from compliance to eDiscovery—a standard inherent to our culture.” said Jonathan Ball, Managing Director, Global Head of Exiger Intelligence. “We’ve watched clients spend too much money on solutions that were never designed to tackle the challenges presented by today’s unabating regulatory and data environment. This expansion is a reflection of Exiger’s commitment to continue investing in exceptional talent and innovating to make the world a safer place to do business.”

To support the global growth of Exiger Intelligence, Exiger has hired Torsten Duwenhorst to serve as Managing Director, EMEA Exiger Intelligence Regional Lead. In addition, Ryan Bilbrey has been named Managing Director, Deputy Head of Exiger Intelligence in New York. Both new hires will play a key role in overseeing and executing the expansion of Exiger Intelligence and its eDiscovery analytics solution.

“Our approach flawlessly combines Exiger’s unmatched subject matter expertise and AI-enabled analytics into one solution. We give our clients the facts they need and the efficiency they want.”

“I chose to join Exiger Intelligence because it couples real innovation with decades of subject matter expertise in corporate and financial risk,” said Duwenhorst. “The combination of scalable and defensible eDiscovery capabilities that can manage both structured and unstructured data combined with our proprietary platform DDIQ and our ability to guide companies through the discovery process with case relevant expertise allows our clients to meet judicial and regulatory standards without incurring unnecessary cost.”

Based in London and charged with driving growth across Europe and Asia Pacific, Duwenhorst brings over 20 years of experience across several industries including financial services, pharma and life sciences, manufacturing, technology and communications industries. He also has deep expertise working with and reporting to regulators and law enforcement in the region. Most recently he served as a forensic technology Partner at Deloitte Switzerland. Previously he was the Lead Partner for Forensic Technology at KPMG as well as the Head of Data Analytics in China and Hong Kong.

Based out of Exiger's New York office, Bilbrey will focus on the expansion of Exiger's eDiscovery and Data Analytics infrastructure for litigation, investigations, and regulatory compliance. The litigation and disputes advisory professional brings over 26 years of experience providing data-focused strategic consulting services to organizations on high-stakes litigation and investigation matters, risk management projects, regulatory compliance programs, and data governance initiatives. Prior to joining Exiger, Bilbrey was a Vice President in the Forensic Solutions practice at Charles River Associates.

"Exiger Intelligence is unrivaled in its focus on utilizing analytics and artificial intelligence," said Bilbrey. "Our approach flawlessly combines Exiger's unmatched subject matter expertise and AI-enabled analytics into one solution. When coupled with Exiger's broader capabilities, we're providing the most comprehensive suite of solutions available in the market. We give our clients the facts they need and the efficiency they want."
